

DEFEAT OF BRITAIN IS OUR TRIUMPH

DIPLOMATIC VICTORY WON BY AMERICA.

Comment By the London Press Shows the Opinion Is General that Great Britain "Backed Down" in the Venezuelan Controversy—What the Newspaper Says.

London, Nov. 12.—The statement published in the newspapers here that British arbitrators in the Venezuelan dispute will be appointed by the lord chief justice, Baron Russell, of Killowen, has excited great interest in and about the law courts, and elsewhere, and there is much speculation regarding the probable choice of Lord Russell.

Sir Frank Lockwood, Q. C., who accompanied Lord Russell on his recent visit to America, in an interview on the subject, said "The result is one to gratify every Englishman, particularly as it is reached without any sacrifice of principles on either side."

The Westminster Gazette, referring to the practical sentiment of the Venezuelan question by submitting it to a court of arbitration, says: "The locus standi of the United States, which the marquis of Salisbury at first denied, is now undisputed, and is accepted even to the length of ruling out Venezuela. We would much rather naturally look to the United States to go bail for Venezuela in return. To this assertion of the Monroe doctrine the most satisfactory point of all is appended—a general arbitration agreement."

The St. James Gazette asks whether the agreement will not throw into arbitration "all the sparsely settled region between the Schomburgk line and the settled territory of Guiana, which Lord Kimberley and the marquis of Salisbury declared they would never submit to arbitration, and whereupon President Cleveland and Secretary Olney declared they should, or the United States would make them." It adds: "If Great Britain does submit this issue to arbitration it will be difficult to disprove the American claim that the agreement is a square back-down upon the part of Great Britain."

The Pall Mall Gazette thinks that hereafter disputes are less likely to occur, "now that the principle of dealing directly with the little republics is set aside in favor of negotiations with their powerful protector."

The Globe welcomes the agreement "because it releases the American government from a false and dangerous position." Continuing, the Globe says: "When the commission reported adversely to Great Britain it would have forced President Cleveland to attempt the coercion of Great Britain or eat the humblest of humble pie. No one in this country wishes to see the development of the United States retarded for half a century, as it would necessarily have done if the government at Washington had seen fit to enter, on so trivial a pretext, upon so unequal a contest. The decision of the commission to withhold its report is an obvious but effective way out of an awkward situation."

The Globe concludes: "It must clearly be understood that the constitution of the new tribunal of arbitration is not to constitute a precedent for arranging all future disputes between the United States and the united kingdom in North and South America, and that we are not ready to recognize Monroeism as an international law."

After a cabinet council the attorney-general, Sir Richard Webster, went to the colonial office and had a conference with Under-Secretary Farris, who has been prominently associated with the Venezuelan question from the first.

Wants a Larger Army. Washington, Nov. 12.—In his annual report to the secretary of war, Maj. Gen. Miles renews his former recommendations for an increase of the army on the ground that it has not kept pace with the increased wealth of public and private interests, and he suggests that the enlisted strength of the army be fixed at one soldier to every 2,000 of population as a minimum, the maximum strength not to exceed one soldier for every 1,000 population, the strength to be determined within these limits by the president according to the necessities and requirements of the nation.

The thirty guests of the hotel escaped through the windows in their night clothing.

Pickens, chairman of the state committee of the gold democrats, has issued a statement with reference to the probability of a compromise between the two factions of the democratic party in this state. WERE AFTER CHINA WITH A SHARP STICK IMPORTANT DIPLOMATIC SECRET REVEALED.

Russia, France and Germany Vainly Tried to Persuade Great Britain to Consent in the Partitioning of the Celestial Empire—The Bear's Influence Felt.

London, Nov. 12.—In the course of a speech at Enfield Tuesday evening, Sir Charles Dilke, the well-known authority on international politics, said that England had recently rejected a proposal by the three great powers—Russia, Germany and France—to partition China.

He also said that the alleged recent inspection of the forts of the Dardanelles by a Russian general was by order of the Russian government and that therefore it was possible that Russia would regard a British attack on the Dardanelles as a casus belli.

Sir Charles' statement tends to confirm rumors of China's impending dissolution which were circulated in the European press directly after it became plain that Japan had won the oriental war.

France has long been desirous to extend her territorial acquisitions in southern Russia and in northern Asia. Germany was included in the proposed division because Germany was too big to be left out.

Whether because the share offered to England (understood to be the island of Formosa) was deemed too small, or because England hoped to gain more by lending China her Japanese indemnity, and thereby gaining control of Chinese revenues, is not clear. Doubtless one or the other of these causes influenced the decision which was reached.

Formosa was claimed and is held by Japan, and England clearly must have realized that in order to gain possession of the island Japan would have to be whipped, no easy operation in this day.

At the present time, while Russian influence in China is strong, Great Britain's agents collect the Chinese revenues as security for the enormous sums China borrowed in London to pay off Japan's war indemnity.

Spain Is for War. Rumors to This Effect Are Given Credit in Washington. Washington, Nov. 12.—From a number of sources the rumors relating to the probability of war with Spain are confirmed. It is believed that the state department possesses definite information from Minister Taylor regarding the strong and ungovernable enmity which is felt toward things American in the Spanish mind. It is said that these advices have even gone so far as to sound a note of warning that an outbreak of violence might be expected in various turbulent quarters. This information will not surprise those who recall the uncontrollable anger which burst forth in Spanish cities and towns on the occasion of the house resolutions sympathizing with the Cuban cause.

There is a feeling in administration circles that the very possibility of war with Spain is to be closely guarded against, but that preparations are to be made to meet any contingency that may arise.

TO ESCORT M'KINLEY IS THEIR DESIRE

MANY ORGANIZATIONS SEEK THE HONOR.

The Committee in Charge of Inauguration Ceremonies Will Settle the Question—Senator Sherman's Views on the Political Situation—General Harrison Is Out of Politics.

Canton, Ohio, Nov. 12.—President-Elect McKinley passed Wednesday quietly at his North Market street home, receiving and entertaining the usual number of visitors and giving such time as is permitted him to the accumulated and still accumulating correspondence.

A committee from the Knights Templar of Canton arrived to ask the honor for the Canton Knights Templar of escorting their comrade to Washington for the inaugural ceremonies. It was explained that such matter would probably be referred to the national committee and the committee in charge of the inauguration at Washington.

A committee for several hundred Canton business men called with a similar tender of services. The eighth regiment, Ohio National Guard, has also asked for the honor, as well as the Cleveland Troop, the Fourteenth Regiment of Columbus, and many other similar organizations. One notable body aspiring for the distinction is the oldest republican club in California, which wired offering to come from San Francisco and do escort duty.

Senator Sherman Considers the Dingley Bill's Prospects Good. New York, Nov. 12.—Senator John Sherman of Ohio, who is at the Fifth Avenue hotel, talked freely about the outlook for legislation in the next congress. "It will be necessary to pass a tariff measure," he said. "The Dingley bill, with some changes, will do for the present. I doubt if the democrats in the senate will oppose the bill. I should say that they, like the silver senators, would not obstruct legislation."

"It is doubtful if the republicans will have a majority in the senate. Nobody can tell yet whether republicans or democrats will go to the senate from Kentucky and North Carolina. Until these states elect their senators, it will be impossible to say which side will have a majority."

The senator was asked if he knew anything about the make-up of President McKinley's cabinet, and if he might take the treasury portfolio again. "McKinley is the only man who knows anything about the cabinet yet, and I have given no thought to cabinet matters," he replied.

Harrison Is Out of Politics. Indianapolis, Nov. 12.—President-elect McKinley's cabinet-makers need not consider the availability of Benjamin Harrison. He has been prominently mentioned in connection with the secretary of state portfolio. But the ex-president would not accept the office if it were offered to him. Nor would he accept any position, either in the cabinet or elsewhere, within the gift of the president. The ex-president is out of politics and public life for good.

Allison for the Cabinet. Dubuque, Iowa, Nov. 12.—Secretary of State McFarland announces that President-elect McKinley wanted Senator Allison to accept the treasury portfolio in his cabinet. Senator Allison's intimates say he would appreciate the privilege of ending his career in the senate. But they doubt that he could resist the pressure which would be brought upon him by those at home who aspire to succeed him, should he have the opportunity to step into the cabinet.

Indiana's Vote for Governor. Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 12.—The vote of Indiana on governor at the recent election is as follows: Shively, dem., 294,855; Mount, rep., 320,052; Crist, pro., 2,997; Wadsworth, pro., 8,560; Kingsbury, nat., 2,492; Moore, soc., 297; grand total, 630,152; Mount's plurality, 26,097. The unofficial returns collected by the newspapers show McKinley's plurality to be about 19,000. About 7,000 populists voted for Bryan electors and for their own candidate for governor.

Figures from Virginia. Richmond, Va., Nov. 12.—Ninety out of 100 counties and all the cities have officially reported election returns to the secretary of the commonwealth. The totals are as follows: Bryan, 144,190; McKinley, 124,233; Palmer, 1,983; Levering, 2,322. Bryan's plurality, 19,957.

Will Contest Republicans. Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 12.—Notices of contest have been filed in the cases of all the republicans elected to fill vacancies in the legislature. This is understood to have been done in the interest of Senator Blackburn.

Vote of New Hampshire. Concord, N. H., Nov. 12.—The final figures for this state give McKinley 55,671; Bryan, 21,096; plurality for McKinley, 31,575. For governor Ramsdel (rep.) receives 49,092; Kent (dem.) 28,000; Ramsdel's plurality, 21,092.

FARMERS FOR BIMETALLISM.

National Congress at Indianapolis Adopts a Resolution.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 12.—The national farmers' congress has declared for international bimetalism. The declaration was made after a lively skirmish between those delegates who believe in the independent coinage of silver and gold and the members of the congress who indorse the action of the people of the United States in electing William McKinley president. Under the leadership of William Lawrence of Ohio, president of the National Wool-growers' association and ex-controller of the currency, the silver men put forward an "international bimetalism" resolution as a substitute for the free silver resolution lying on the desk of the president, and it was adopted by a majority of 10 to 1. The resolution is as follows:

"Resolved, That the farmers' national congress urgently requests the incoming administration of the national government to speedily adopt all practicable methods to obtain the concurrence of a sufficient number of nations to secure international bimetalism with the unlimited coinage of gold and silver as equally money of ultimate redemption, and thereby to restore bimetalism prices for the world's commerce."

J. G. Offutt of Indiana led the fight for the free silver delegates. He declared that in the middle western states the prices of farm products are below the cost of production; that the farmers in many localities are becoming destitute; that the number of land owners is becoming fewer, and that the number of tenants is increasing. He declared that there is in this country a sentiment in favor of crushing out the life of the common people.

Mr. Lawrence said in reply that the resolution was designed to carry out the policy already sanctioned by the people. The president of the congress, referring to a bill pending in the United States senate, providing for an industrial commission, said that action should be taken by the farmers' convention looking to the appointment of one or perhaps two of the five members of the commission from the membership of this congress. The session was largely devoted to resolutions, and they were referred to the committee on resolutions, as follows:

Suggesting S. W. Allerton of Illinois as secretary of agriculture. That it is the sense of this congress that women should be given the right of suffrage. That the congress of the United States should take active measures to restrict undesirable immigration, discountenance class legislation and discourage sectionalism.

Mr. Stahl of Illinois introduced this resolution: That this congress demands that the laws against trusts be enforced and such laws as are now inadequate be strengthened. The committee on locating the next meeting of the congress reported in favor of St. Paul, Minn., and suggested that it be held at least two months earlier in the year than the present congress.

Crisis in Cuban Affairs. Washington, Nov. 12.—It is the firm conviction of officers of the administration that a crisis is approaching in Cuban affairs, and that the only safe course for the United States to pursue is to await developments. It can be stated authoritatively that the report made by Gen. Lee during his recent conferences with the president and the secretary of state will not be productive of any immediate change in the attitude of the United States.

Want Restoration of Wages. Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 12.—The train crews and yardmen of the Big Four system will make a demand for the restoration of wages to the scale in effect prior to Sept. 1, 1893. At that time President Ingals told the men who voted on the proposition to strike that the wage scale would be restored as soon as times were better. It is understood that there will be a united movement on the part of the brotherhood to get back the wages and conditions of 1893.

Wreck on the Union Pacific. Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 12.—A serious accident took place on the main line of the Union Pacific railway about 11 a. m. Wednesday, thirty-six miles east of Julesburg, between Roscoe and Ogallala, in Nebraska. Evidence is conflicting as to the cause of the disaster, some stating it was due to broken rails and others to spreading of rails. No one was killed, but several were slightly injured.

Western League Session. Chicago, Nov. 12.—The Western league magnates met yesterday at the Victoria hotel. Formal business, such as awarding the pennant to Minneapolis, was disposed of. KNIGHTS FOR SILVER. K. of L. Assembly at Rochester Indorses the White Metal. Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Free silver was the keynote of Wednesday's doings in the Knights of Labor general assembly. Both the report of General Master Workman Sovereign and of the general executive board take strong ground in favor of making the advocacy of free silver one of the cardinal principles of the order, a position it has never before been given. Leaders of the assembly declare this will be done, and practically without opposition.

General Secretary-Treasurer John W. Hayes read a long report of the financial status of the order. The report recommends that "the general executive board be instructed, as a legislative committee, to urge that, instead of a prohibitory tariff on glass, the tariff be transferred to the immigrant glass worker, so that the industry shall be retained in the control of native workmen and the foreign workman kept where he properly belongs."

The report of the general executive board was presented by Henry B. Martin of Minneapolis. It is recommended that hasty and ill-advised strikes be avoided. Especial stress is laid on "unifying the political power of the masses," to the end that every branch of the government may be placed in the hands of the wealth-producers.

PRELATE IS IN PERIL. Archbishop Ireland Accused of Heresy by Satolli. New York, Nov. 12.—In connection with the report that Archbishop Ireland may be removed from his see by the pope, news has been received here by a number of Roman Catholics of national standing that Cardinal Satolli has presented to Leo a complete report on church matters in America. They say that Cardinal Satolli has made a presentment against Bishop Keane of the Catholic university at Washington and Archbishop Ireland. Bishop Keane is accused of having said in several speeches things which border closely on heresy, and it is alleged that he, with Archbishop Ireland, endeavored to set up a new Catholicism in the United States.

Rome, Nov. 12.—The statement circulated in the United States that the pope has decided to remove Archbishop Ireland from the diocese of St. Paul is untrue. But it is stated by those qualified to know that Archbishop Ireland has lost the greater part of the former consideration in which he was held at the vatican, and the course he pursued in the late election in the United States has increased this disfavor.

Poor Widow Assassinated. Logansport, Ind., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Fred Nipple, a poor widow, who lives fourteen miles west of Logansport, in Carroll county, was shot and killed while she was husking a few ears of corn in a corn-field on Daniel Neible's farm, whose property adjoins the little plat of ground where she lived alone with her six small children. The Carroll county authorities arrested Daniel Neible and two sons, aged 12 and 13 years, and holds them without bail, pending a preliminary examination.

Husband and Wife Killed. Unionville, Mich., Nov. 12.—At the home of Samuel Welch Wednesday George Welch went to the barn to do the chores. While there Samuel blew off the top of his wife's head. George returned to the house and took the gun away from his brother. Then taking the 5-year-old boy he started for a neighbor's. Before he returned Samuel had secured a revolver from a tool chest and shot himself back of the right ear. Both Samuel and his wife died almost instantly.

Carlisle Tires of Politics. Louisville, Ky., Nov. 12.—When Mr. Carlisle was in Kentucky, he said to a friend who had mentioned the fact that there was talk of electing him to the senate: "I sincerely hope they won't do it. I have been in politics thirty years and I am tired of it."

BELOIT COMPANY CALLS ROGERS

Want the Former Captain to Save the Company From Dissolution.

Beloit, Nov. 12.—[Special]—The Line City Rides which fell from third place in the state to twenty-ninth under Captain Hammer last year and which has been on the verge of disbandment for several months, last night again called Captain Tom J. Rogers to the command.

The company is in such low straits financially and otherwise that Mr. Rogers has not decided whether he will accept the leadership or not.

[Captain Tom T. Rogers is one of the best known militiamen in the state. Under his charge the Beloit company became very proficient and if he should assume command again no doubt the company would be returned to its former footing.]

MADE HIS COMPLAINT HEARD.

Two Neighborhood Tales With One Moral—Raise Your Voice.

A man with a complaint against a neighbor once appeared before an ancient potentate, but related his grievance so tamely, that the sovereign expressed his doubts as to the truth of the story. Whereupon the supplicant, extremely indignant at being considered a liar, threw into his repetition such action and befitting vehemence that his hearer said: "Now you talk as if you meant it. I believe you now."

An advertiser appeared before the public on many occasions, with a tale of wonderful bargains which no one believed because of his tame and inconspicuous way of presenting his story. At last his deplorable plight attracted the attention of a smart young "ad" man who straightway induced him to try a column of space for his announcement. The public understood the unwritten impression of urgency conveyed by the sight of the big space and woke up to the reality of the advertiser's story.

Special floral decorations will be one of the features.

The superintendent of motive power on the St. Paul road, has promised to give the new invention a practical test.

STREET CAR RECEIPTS ARE LESS.

Business For Month of October Less Than Last Year.

The receipts of the Janesville street car line are still decreasing, when compared with the corresponding months of a year ago. During the month of October 14,103 paid their fare, while during October of '95 the receipts indicated that 17,831 passengers were carried. Supt. Cummins says that the "drop off" is due largely to hard times, but he expects a much better showing for November.

Janesville's colonial treasures were a surprise to the owners. They surpassed in number and interest anything that enthusiasm had pictured. There was no hesitation in demanding another day of the exhibition when the public realized what was on view. The doors of the Army were kept open, therefore until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

So much was there to see last night that there was not time for careful inspection of revolutionary weapons, colonial counterpanes and samplers, bonnets and gowns of 1776, old Virginia table service and camp equipage, and rare autograph letters. At 8 o'clock the orchestra sobered down from a two-step into a more stately measure. Six dainty maids, six courtly youths, in the quaint costumes of colonial days, advanced down the hall and courtesied low in the opening figure of the minuet. They danced it with a grace and distinction that won applause on all sides. At 10 o'clock they re-appeared and this time so insistent was the applause that a repetition of the principal figures followed. The young people who added so much to the charm of the evening's entertainment were:

Members of the D. A. R. in colonial gowns, and with powdered hair, presided over the cases of revolutionary mementos. To list the exhibit would be impossible on account of the number. Those who contributed were Mrs. H. H. Marshall, Mrs. J. J. R. Pease, Mrs. John Winsans, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy, Miss Parker, Mrs. Herbert Baker, Mrs. Elizabeth Perrin, Mrs. H. DEDICATED A CHURCH AT EAGLE

Archbishop Katzer, Officiates At St. Theresa's.

The dedicatory services of St. Theresa's Catholic church at Eagle, the cornerstone of which was laid one year ago, took place yesterday, Archbishop F. X. Katzer, of Milwaukee, officiating, assisted by the Rev. A. J. Nickel, the resident pastor. Very Rev. E. M. McGinnity, of Janesville, preached the dedicatory sermon, and Father A. Becker, of Pawaukee, spoke in German. After high mass, confirmation was administered to a large class of candidates. Members and friends of the society were present from Palmyra, East Troy, North Prairie, Genesee and neighboring cities and towns for many miles around. The building is one of the finest in this section of the country.

GIVE THEM A BETTER SHOW.

Goods In Every Store That Are Kept In The Back Ground.

There are lines of goods in every department that are rarely shown in the windows, rarely spoken of in the ads., and still more rarely made use of in special sales. They are all the year staples; they sell at all seasons. People are always ready to buy them, but in some instances they may not know that they have them. Anyway, they don't always think of your store as the place to go for them when they require them, and simply because they have not heard you speak of them or show them. Hunt these strange lines up, speak of them in occasional advertisements and give them a front place. —Dry Goods Economist.

To Test Your Appreciation

Tomorrow, Friday, we will make a special offer on high grade capes and jackets of the newest and latest styles, in order to test your appreciation of a most reckless reduction in high grade garment prices. We have taken in all out of our cape and jacket stock, which by the way, is of the highest grade ordered this season—sixty-five jackets worth $25, $20, $18, and $15 and reduced them to $12.50 each, 33 capes worth $20, $18 and $15, and dropped the prices to $12.50 each, mind you the figures we say they are worth are not fabricated. We get just the amounts stated for the garments mentioned above. You will agree that the cut is one of considerable note, and if you take advantage of the opportunity there will be a saving to you that will be well worth the effort it costs you. THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

BREAD MUST RISE
THE BAKERS SAY
NO MONEY IN BUSINESS AT PRESENT.

With Wheat and Flour Going Up, the Staff of Life Cannot Be Sold For Less Than Five Cents Straight—Crackers Will Now Cost More, Too.

You will have to pay more for bread in a short time. Local bakers make the announcement that prices must be raised, and quote the fact that wheat has gone up as the reason. When wheat rises, flour must necessarily cost more, the expense of making bread is correspondingly increased. The matter has been discussed by the local bakers, and the market has been watched with interest the past few days.

The staff of life has been selling in this city, at prices ranging from three to five cents a loaf. At the former price there has been no money in the business, and now that flour costs more, a three cent price means a loss of money on each loaf. A local baker who has been selling bread at the rate of three loaves for ten cents said this morning that for the past two months he had been doing business at a loss. With the price of "raw material" at the present notch, he said, a price of five cents straight must be had in order to meet expenses. Therefore a raise in price may be expected. Crackers, Also, Go Up.

One of the effects of the advance in the price of wheat and the corresponding increase of flour prices is seen in a notice sent out this week by the cracker manufacturers of Milwaukee, to the trade that a half cent had been added to the list price of most of their goods. The notice states that the manufacturers have been holding off and watching the market to ascertain whether the advance was more than temporary, but that it has been maintained to such a degree that the advance in crackers is necessary to meet it and that the increase is not so great as is warranted by the state of the flour market.

Some of the retail dealers complain that prices were too high before the advance of a half-cent was made. They say that the factory weight does not hold out at retail, because of a necessity of giving "down weight" when crackers are sold by the pound, and for the further reason that they suffer considerable loss from broken goods, while the factory saves on both of these lines, the first through weighing in bulk and in the second through using the broken material by converting it into cracker meal, which they sell at a profit or use in the making of new goods.

AMENDMENT PROBABLY FAILED.

Few Votes Cast On the State Superintendent's Salary Question.

The proposed amendment to the state constitution removing the limitation as to the salary of the state superintendent and permitting the legislator to fix the salary, is probably defeated, the returns already received indicating a failure on the part of most of the people who favored the adoption of the amendment to vote, while the opposition was better represented on the ballots. In the greater interest in the general result of the election, comparatively few voters paid any attention to the amendment, as is shown by the fact that in the few counties from which reports have been received, of the people casting ballots at the election not one-fourth of them voted on the amendment. The votes cast on the amendment in these few counties are as follows:

| Burnett | 30 | 340 |
| Dane | 1,677 | 1,662 |
| Florence | 46 | 64 |
| Racine | 1,674 | 2,099 |
| Sauk | 704 | 1,109 |
| Vernon | 384 | 1,046 |
| Washington | 877 | 684 |
| Winnebago | 902 | 1,296 |

Total.....6,163 9,682

These counties polled a total vote for president of 68,195, but their vote on the constitutional amendment aggregates only 15,846, or considerably less than one-fourth of the full vote. In most cases the people who are interested themselves in sending the election returns to the papers, and in even reporting the results of the official canvass in the counties, appear to have been quite as indifferent to the matter of the amendment, for it is only here and there that the figures on it struggle to the surface, and the matter must wait the slow solution of the official canvass by the secretary of state.

WORKS WHEN HE NEEDS TO.

Siegel-Cooper Co.'s Superintendent Explains His Theory of Procedure.

The absence of the Siegel-Cooper ads from New York papers last week, led to inquiry. Charles F. Jones, the advertising manager of this firm, said: "The policy of this firm will be to attempt to do only what business we can in a way that is pleasing to our customers. When more people come than we can possibly attend to, it is useless for us to make an effort, by advertising to increase the number."

"Then you don't need to advertise as much as you expected to?"

"That's it. We will, however, when we need it, as our agreements are for space to be taken as we wish. We expect our advertising to do the greatest part of its work in dull seasons. The busy part of the season takes care of itself."

COL. INGERSOLL NOT AFTER CASH

Eloquent Lecturer Talks From Inspiration—To Be Here Soon.

As everyone knows, Robert G. Ingersoll's lectures are not delivered for sordid reasons. The illustrious prophet of reason cares very little for the money he makes by his oratorical powers. He could not be induced for the wealth of the nation to utter a sentence in which he had not full belief. His sincerity has much to do with the weight of his declarations from the platform. You feel, you see that noble, but quiet figure at the reading desk, and hear the easy flow of eloquence, but this is indeed a man who is using his marvelous gifts for the benefit of his kind. Argument, persuasion, poetry, imagery, invective and satire flow easily from his lips, and all are backed up by a scholarly research that makes every word effective. He has devoted many years to the study of theology, and it is as a theologian that he challenges the world. Col. Ingersoll is now making a brief lecture tour and will be heard upon the lecture platform in this city at an early day, when he will deliver his new anti-orthodox discourse, "The Bible."

MURDERED DOCTOR
WELL KNOWN HERE

PHYSICIAN WHO WAS SLAIN AT TOCOMA.

Had Often Visited This City Looking For Blooded Horses and Was Well Acquainted In the Bower City—Dr. Wintermute Killed By One of His Patients.

Dr. James Stinson Wintermute, of Tacoma, Wash., who, as was stated in the telegraphic columns of the Gazette last night, was shot by Samuel Tucker, a hypochondriac, whom he was treating, was well known in this city.

Dr. Wintermute was born in St. Paul in 1860. Ten years later his family moved to Yankton, S. D. Later he was employed in Stinson's bank, Hamilton, Ont. He began the study of medicine at Ann Arbor in 1879, then went to Rush Medical College Chicago, graduating in 1893, after which he took a course in mineralogy there.

He was also engaged, at one time in buying time horses, in company with an uncle, Mr. Stinson. He had frequently visited Janesville, in connection with the horse business. George Woodruff knew Dr. Wintermute well, and said, last night, that the doctor had visited this city many times.

WOMAN'S POWER.

IT SHAPES THE DESTINIES OF MEN AND NATIONS.

Where Men Are at a Disadvantage, and "Only a Woman Can Understand a Woman's Ills."

Woman's beauty, love and devotion, rule the world. Grand women; strong mentally, morally and physically, whose ambition and magnetic influence urge every man to deeds of grandeur and heroism. Such women are all-powerful.

sickly, ailing women have little ambition; their own troubles occupy their thoughts, and their one object is to get well.

They have no confidence in themselves, and only too often lose faith in their physicians.

All irregularities, whites, bearing-down pains, nervousness, headache, backache, "blues," distaste for society, sounds in ears, palpitation, emaciation, heavy eyes, "all gone" feeling, dread of impending evil, sleeplessness, etc., should at once be removed and vigorous health assured.

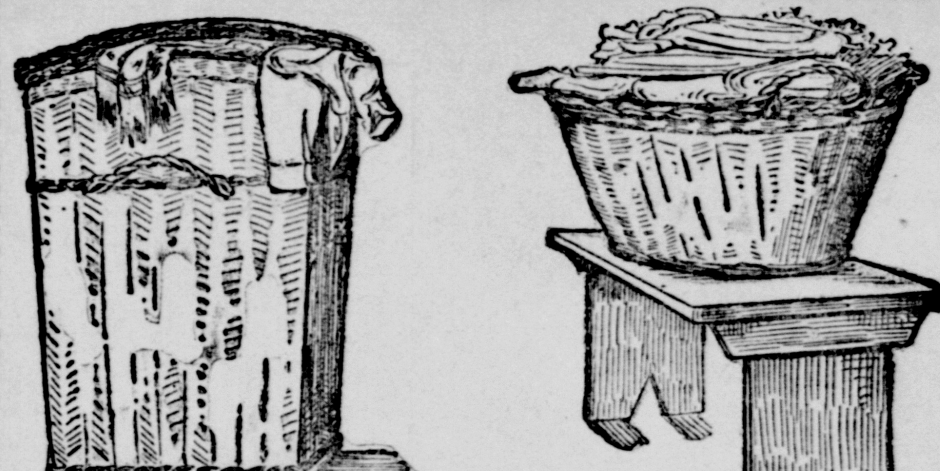

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has for twenty years saved women from all this. Hear this woman speak:—

"I wish to publish what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done for me. I had falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and they have cured me of both. I am a well woman. I suffered dreadfully with such dragging pains in the lower part of the back and extending around the body, irritation of the bladder, pain when walking and painful menstruation; I weakened terribly. I had been treated by three doctors without much help, and it only took five bottles of your Compound and three packages of Sanative Wash to cure me. I can recommend them to all women suffering with complaints like these."—MRS. VANNATTA, 3927 N. Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1857—Beginning of the commercial panic in England, which soon extended to the United States. In England the failure of banking companies and private firms was of a magnitude hitherto unheard of. The liabilities of five of the more important banks aggregated £16,000,000, and those of 146 firms swelled the total to over £20,000,000. Discount stood at 9 per cent as against the usual rate of 5½. The government went to the rescue by suspending the bank charter act of 1844, and the issue was increased to £2,000,000 in excess of the statutory amount.

1891—Colonel Don Platt, journalist, died in Cleveland; born in Cincinnati 1819.

1895—Henry G. Ashton, inventor of the Ashton safety valve, died at Somerville, Mass.; born 1840.

NO PROFIT IN COWARDICE.

Courage in politics pays. If the St. Louis convention had straddled on silver, as several leaders advised, the silver republicans would still have succeeded, while the Indianapolis ticket would undoubtedly have polled 500,000 or 600,000 more votes than it did. The Chicago convention would have declared for free coinage even if the St. Louis convention had coddled the issue. Nobody doubts this. The republicans would have lost the silver element of their party under a straddle, for the Teller men's ultimatum in the St. Louis assemblage was an out-and-out free coinage plank, or else they would bolt. Under a straddle the republicans would have obtained very few democratic votes. Without the democratic vote the republicans could not have carried Kentucky, and probably not Indiana or Maryland.

ANALYZING THE MAJORITY.

McKinley's majority in the electoral college is larger than any presidential nominee has had since 1872, except Cleveland in 1892, but this majority is far less impressive than the 1,000,000 popular plurality, which is immeasurably the longest lead ever given to a presidential candidate in any contested election. Moreover, the McKinley states represent double the population of the Bryan states, and three times the wealth. Necessarily, though, the Bryan states have an immensely greater proportion of the illiterate persons, for otherwise they would not have been Bryan states.

After deciding that American pork is unfit to eat, the Agrarian press of Germany has made a similar discovery regarding American apples. It is altogether likely that Germany having cut off her pork for politico-sanitary reasons, will do the same thing with her apple-sauce. A stiff application of reciprocity would do more to set Germany's mind at rest about American microbes than will all the scientific demonstration in the world.

More About That Ladies' Box Calf Shoe

We are selling ladies' box calf shoes in great numbers; one grade that we formerly asked $3.50 for, that are reduced to $2.85, a most desirable shoe in every way; and another at $3.75 that prior to October 15, we asked $4.50 for. This last shoe is one that seems to cause some of the shoe selling people in town a little trouble. It's so hard to be imitated either in price or quality; it's far ahead of shoes that other dealers ask you $3.75 for; in fact, it is what you would pay them $4.50. Don't allow anyone to tell you they are selling a box calf at $3.75 that is superior to ours, because it's not so; the fact of our selling for cash enables us to make the low price on so good a shoe. Supervisor Smith thought some agreement ought to be entered into between the county and the justices, whereby the bills of physicians would not be acted upon until they had passed through the hands of the justice. He thought it would be a great saving to the county, as he was of the opinion that sometimes the doctors received their regular legal fee and then later presented a bill to the county and sometimes received pay twice.

TWO LIVES ARE MADE ONE

Smith-Sheldon.

The marriage of Margaret P. Sheldon to Samuel M. Smith took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sheldon last evening. The house was beautiful with carysanthemums and ferns and in a corner half screened by palms the bride and groom expectant took their places at 8 o'clock. They were unattended. Ambrose C. Smith, D. D. father of the groom performed the ceremony giving to the charge deep impressiveness.

The congratulations that followed the ceremony were from the heart. Both bride and groom hold the sincere regard of a host of Janesville people and both richly merit that regard. The bride is a young lady of unusual force of character. She has enjoyed many advantages, among them the opportunity for two years of travel and study in Europe. The groom is junior partner in the law firm of Whitehead, Matheson & Smith and stands high in business and social circles by virtue of integrity, force and acknowledged brilliancy.

Refreshments were served immediately after the ceremony, the bride and groom leaving early in order to drive to Milton to catch the midnight Milwaukee train. From Milwaukee they go to Minneapolis and St. Paul and on their return will make their home for a time with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Matheson, 56 South Third street.

Among those present at the wedding were several from out of town—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Powers, Chicago; Mrs. H. L. Bailey, Fargo, S. D., sister of the bride; Mrs. H. P. Stebbins, Chicago; Misses Georgiana Sheldon and Anna Chapman, Madison, and Alfred Thompson, Beloit.

Overton-Van Galder.

Last evening, at the Van Galder home in the town of La Prairie, the words were spoken by the Rev. R. K. Matson of Stoughton that united as husband and wife Miss Henrietta Van Galder and R. K. Overton. A large number of friends were present, and numerous handsome presents marked the occasion. Both the bride and groom are well known in this city. They will go to house-keeping upon a farm near Shopiere.

Conrad on Trial for Murder.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 12.—The trial of Charles Conrad for the murder of William Cope is engrossing the attention of the circuit court of this (McLean) county. On the 19th of May last Conrad and Cope, both farmers living near Cooksville, became involved in a quarrel in regard to the ownership of some drain tile. Cope was killed by the thrust of a knife, presumably inflicted by Conrad.

Since coming out of the asylum he has seemed to be in good condition of mind. I had not seen him for two weeks or more and supposed that he was steadily at work. He has worked for most of the contracting firms in the city and his work adorns the buildings designed by the best architects in the city. He is a good decorative sculptor. He helped to carve the stone figures on the Criminal Court building and of late has been making dragons and gargoyles for the new stone buildings at the University of Chicago. He also did some work on the sculpture, at the court house in Evansville Ind."

A Matter of Clothes...

There is a saying that "the coat doesn't make the man." It does go a mighty long ways towards it, though. The accompanying pictures are of the same individual. The transformation made by the well-fitting apparel is almost marvelous. It represents the difference between clothes that wear and clothes that do not; between good clothes and poor clothes. We keep the good kind only, but that doesn't mean that the prices are not low. You can easily realize that by a glance at these offerings:

The Stein-Bloch Business Sack Suit

Fashionably cut, shapely shoulders, and perfect fitting about the neck. Scotch stuffs, checks, plaids, mixtures at $15 to $20. No tailor can turn out better fitting clothing. This line of suits has already a great reputation about town.

Our $10 and $12 Freize Storm Coats You Should See.

Our Storm Ulsters in the Freizes and Rough Chinchillas are in great demand.

You would pay $20 more to the tailor for a coat no better than our $18, $20 and $25 kinds.

PUETZ IS AN ARTIST AND NOT A TRAMP

INSANE SCULPTOR IS WELL KNOWN.

For Eight Years He Had Maintained a Studio On Aristocratic Elles Avenue, Chicago—Has Been Crazy Before—His Brother Tells of His Trouble—Relatives Are Notified.

Frederic S. Puetz, the insane Chicago sculptor, will be taken home tomorrow morning, by Sheriff Appleby. The sheriff laid the case before the county board this afternoon, and was authorized to incur the necessary expense. The crazy man's brother was quoted by a Chicago paper as saying that he would care for Puetz if he was sent home.

Frederic S. Puetz, the insane Chicago sculptor who was captured by farmers night before last, is still at the county jail.

Chief of Police Acheson has telegraphed his Chicago relatives, but as yet no answer has been received. Another dispatch was sent to Puetz's brother this morning, he having told the officers the brother's address last night.

Telegrams were sent to the address given by Puetz—6020 Ellis avenue—last night, but no response was received. The Chicago Tribune of this morning has a half column article, but Tribune reporters could not find anyone who knew Puetz at the Ellis avenue address, although his brother was found at the address that Puetz gave—corner of Thirty-first street and Wentworth avenue.

"I do not want to send Puetz to the asylum" said Sheriff Appleby last night. "He is an educated man, and must have friends who will doubtless be glad to care for him."

Presents Fitful Appearance.

Puetz presented a sorry sight when a representative of The Gazette called on him at the jail last night. His custom-made suit was torn and bedraggled, and his face was haggard and drawn. He was unshaven, and showed the effects of his hard tramp. He was barefooted, the shoes that he wore—a pair that laced almost to his knees—being about gone.

"My home," he said, during one of his rational moments, "is at Chicago. For eight years I have had a studio at 6020 Ellis avenue, Chicago. For a time I was in business with my brother, Tillman S. Puetz, Thirty-First street and Wentworth avenue. We could not agree, so I left him, and went into business for myself. I have done much work for public buildings, and made the sculptures for the court house at Evansville, Indiana. I tried to do some work for the World's fair, but they would not give me a chance. I would like to get out of here," he added, glancing around the jail corridor, "I like to have my full liberty."

Would Walk in Bare Feet

"Won't you let me go?" he asked of Sheriff Appleby.

"Yes, Fred," the sheriff replied, "we are going to send you home tomorrow."

"But I assure you that I would fully appreciate your kindness if you would let me go now," Puetz said.

"But it is dark out of doors, and you must have your shoes fixed first."

"You are too kind to me," Puetz replied. "I can walk. Your offer to buy me a ticket and send me home on the train is a very liberal and considerate one, but I can walk without my shoes."

Incoherent sentences about "Catherine Burke," "State street," and "Indiana avenue" followed, and then Puetz's mind seemed to become clear again.

"I left Chicago on October 28," he said. "Since then I do not know where I have been, but I have walked, and walked, and walked. I want to go back to Chicago now. Yes," he continued in answer to Sheriff Appleby's question, "I am feeling well, thank you. My health is very good. I have no pain in my head, and my physical condition is excellent."

Puetz is clearly deranged. When placed in jail he threw his shoes out of the window, and tried to put his clothes in the stove.

Is Not a Tramp.

Puetz shows all manners of a gentleman, and is not a tramp. He is about thirty years of age, about five feet, eight or nine inches tall, will weigh about 145 pounds, and is evidently a German. He is very polite and uses good language. At times he talks rationally, but soon lapses into nonsense. He seems to have no idea where he is, and has no special mania. He said he would like to go to church yesterday, but when the sheriff told him it was Wednesday and not Sunday, he seemed perfectly satisfied. He pulled the table out into the middle of the room last night, and announced that he would entertain company. One of the other prisoners asked him how many he expected. Puetz then drew himself up with great dignity, and informed the questioner that "it is none of your business, sir!"

Has Been Insane Before.

His brother, Tillman S. Puetz is also a sculptor, with whom Frederic lived at No. 2906 Wentworth avenue until about a year ago.

Tillman Puetz said to a Chicago Tribune man last evening: "My brother had an attack of insanity, as the result of an illness brought on by insomnia. That was about four years ago. He suffered so much from this that although he was not violent, it was thought best to commit him to the Detention Hospi-

One hundred dollars in cash that was to have been used to celebrate the republican victory, is now in the hands of Treasurer Charles Putnam. Mrs. F. L. Chapell.

Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy has received news of the death of her sister, Mrs. F. L. Chapell, of Boston, Mass., who has been ill for several months, though the end came quite suddenly. Mrs. Chapell was a resident of this city from 1878 to 1881, when her husband was pastor of the Baptist church here. She is remembered by many as a lovely woman, who was held in the highest esteem by those who knew her best. She leaves a husband and two daughters to mourn the loss of one who made life beautiful with her loving kindness.

Should Be Encouraged.

The blonde seemed troubled. "I don't know what to make of Harold," she said. "He has been attentive to me for a long time, but somehow he never seems to come to the point." "I don't believe you have given him sufficient encouragement," replied the brunette. "I don't see what more I can do. He must know that I look upon him with favor." "Oh, well, that doesn't cut any figure," answered the brunette. "Just give him a strong hint that your father is able to support one more, and you'll find that it's all right."—Chicago Post.

The Change It Makes.

Merchant Tailor—Good morning, Mr. Truepay. What can I do for you this morning? Mr. Truepay—I want a suit of clothes. "Yes, sir. John, the tape and book, please." "Oh, I don't want a suit to measure. I want a ready-made suit." "Eh? Ready-made?" "Yes—a cheap one." "Certainly, certainly. Right this way, please. I hadn't heard of your marriage."—N. Y. Weekly.

Consolatory.

A man who was suffering from gout in the right foot was so fortunate as to possess a wife who used every possible means to comfort and console him. One day when he was complaining bitterly of the pain, she said soothingly: "But you are comparatively well off, James. Just think what the gout would be if you were a thousand-legged worm!"—Youth's Companion.

Conflicting.

"I think we are not cultivating the new neighbors as we should," said Mrs. Blykins. "Well," replied her husband, "there's no use trying to do too many things at once. It stands to reason that we can't expect to be successful in cultivating the neighbors and Millicent's voice at the same time."—Washington Star.

Matrimonial Item.

Jennie Chaffie—How did Mamie Smith come to marry that old fossil? What if he is rich?

Birdie McGinnis—Do you know that he has heart disease so badly that the slightest shock is liable to prove fatal? "Ah, is that so?"

"Yes, and Mamie Smith she will be able to shock him."—Texas Sifter.

Happily Matched.

Aunt Marie—I think you and Mr. Mann ought to get along nicely together. You know, you both like the same people.

Matilda—Yes, and what is better, we hate the same people. Just think what nice long talks we shall have together. —Tit-Bits.

Uncle Eben's Philosophy.

"Some folks," said Uncle Eben, "talks 'bout de wuhk dey hab done in de pas'. Some folks talks 'bout de wuhk dey's gwinteter do in de future. But de man dat's re'ly doin' somefin' right now, he ain't got time ter say er word."—Washington Star.

Showing Him a Way.

Artist (just completing a portrait of his wife)—I do hate that Mr. Snely so much, Clara: is there no way of getting even with him?

Clara (thoughtfully)—I don't know; you might paint a portrait of him.—N. Y. Truth.

A Better Metal.

"You have an iron constitution, haven't you, Fudger?" "Well, I started out with one, but the world treated me so roughly that I found it necessary to substitute brass."—Chicago Record.

TIME SPENT IN SHAVING.

Over 200 Days of a Man's Life Spent in a Barber Shop.

People as a rule admire a man who possesses a face that shows the bright look of cleanliness and youthfulness that is the result of a good, clean shave. No matter of how good a quality a man's clothing may be or how late the style in which they are made, he does not possess that look of refinement that naturally belongs to a man if his face is marred with a stubby beard. There is nothing that will bring about this refined effect so well as a shave. Yet how many people who admire this bringing out of the features in such a clear-cut and pleasant manner really know how much time and trouble is taken up in acquiring the youthfulness of countenance that they so much admire. Few people have anything near the correct idea of the time lost by the ordinary man in barber shops. The business man who looks so natty in correct and well-fitting clothes, with his smooth, clean face, gets shaved on an average of about four times a week. When he goes to the barber's the first time he may be lucky enough to strike a time when there is no customer ahead of him, and as a result he is shaved and back to business again in almost half an hour. The next time he goes he is not so fortunate, and about thirty-five minutes are consumed. The third time may take even longer, and the fourth time in the week, which is usually on Saturday, he may find quite a number ahead of him, and very often he is compelled to wait fully an hour before he is shaved. In this way the business man spends on an average of two and a half hours each week in a barber shop. It does not seem long for a week, but when you calculate the time spent in this way in a lifetime it is enormous. At the above rate, which is very low, the business man, computing that he starts shaving when he is 20 years of age and lives to be 60, continuing shaving during the interim, will have spent nearly 217 days in a barbershop. If he gets shaved but three times a week, as many of them do, he will during the same length of time as in the above mentioned instance have spent nearly 150 days in a barber shop. The above is only for the time lost and does not include the expense attached to the operation. In the barber shops patronized by business men of any standing whatever the price of a shave is never less than 15 cents. Usually, too, there is a tip of at least a dime for the barber and a nickel for the boy who brushes your hat and clothes. This runs the cost of your shaving up pretty high, especially when you take into consideration the fact that during an ordinary lifetime a man who gets shaved four times a week makes over 8,000 visits to the barber shop. As the cost of these visits is usually 25 or 30 cents each, it can readily be seen that the expense attached to the operation during a man's lifetime is no inconsiderable or trifling amount. In the shops patronized by the working classes the prices are not so high, the expense of the laboring classes in this line amounting on an average to about $1 per month. Even at this rate it costs the ordinary laboring man a few hundred dollars during his lifetime for his indulgence in the luxury of a clean-shaven face.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood.

A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more for them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. PREVAILING FASHIONS.

Startling Color Combinations—Spangles and Metallic Effects—Dragon Fly Pins. The present style is far from being uniform. Revivals of the fashions of 1840, 1850 and 1854 are very evident, although they are more or less modified and altered to suit the prevailing taste of today. The mingling of colors and materials now seen is something really surprising. The more elaborate models of costumes in particular show rainbow combinations of tint in three and four kinds of goods. Of course the rich brocades and striped silks provide a variety of color in themselves.

Spangled and other metallic and jeweled effects on white, black or colored net are among the expensive and fashionable novelties for evening wear. Black net of course affords the best ground, as the somber tone and lustrous surface form a striking contrast to the brilliant ornamentation.

Speaking of metallic effects, one of the prettiest ideas in the line of jewelry now to be seen is the dragon fly pin. These pins are small and are of tinted gold in imitation of the real insect's gleaming armor. The wings and body are sometimes set with precious stones, but the less expensive pins are almost as pretty as the heavily jeweled ones.

Blue and green and purple and green are used in immense quantities, both in solid colors and changeable effects. The blue employed is of a deep, strong shade, and the purple is royal purple. There are charming silk plaids in these colors which are employed for bodices and blouses. Noire ribbon of changeable blue and green is one of the prettiest millinery developments. It is often bordered with exceedingly narrow black velvet.

Today's cut shows a princess gown of green and black striped silk. The bodice is inclosed by coquilles of plaited black satin inside a band of black fox fur. The front of the bodice is separate from the skirt, opening over a plastron of black embroidery on a green ground and falling in two tabs upon the skirt. These tabs are adorned with large buttons. The plastron is bordered by fur, and coquilles of black plaited satin are carried down the middle. The belt is also of black satin. The close sleeves of striped silk have butterflies of black satin at the top, and the black satin collar is bordered with fur.

BOLEROS AND BODICES.

Sleeves Are Very Tight Except For a Puffed Top.

Boleros which are intended to accompany elaborate gowns are usually very short, hardly extending over the bosom, but their small size is compensated for by their extreme richness. No lace, embroidery or passementerie is too expensive for them, and it is fortunate that not much is required to make them.

Sleeves are very close and tight except at the shoulder, where short puffs, draperies or bows give a wide effect. They are trimmed with costly galloons and magnificent buttons or simply with velvet and inexpensive lace. The trimming is arranged in groups of horizontal bands. Braiding is also employed, or the sleeve is gathered by an immense number of regular shirrings.

There is a great variety of vests to be worn under coats and boleros. The original model, having one or two points at the waist and revers at the top, is quite lost sight of, many of the new vests having a belt or corselet like a bodice. If the outer coat is very small or so open as to show a great deal of the vest, the latter is trimmed with brandebourgs, motifs of passementerie, superimposed revers, collars, many rows of buttons or braided bands or straps. The vest may likewise be covered with crosswise or vertical draperies of lace, or the lace may be arranged in coquilles and jabots. Broche pompadour or Louis XIII silk is used, satin and white cloth embroidered and braided with gold. The edges of the garment are sometimes embroidered with delicate bands of flowers, similar embroidery adorning the collar. A cravat of lace of the avocet or Louis Quatorze style completes the effect.

The bodice illustrated is of pearl gray silk. It has a very short, ripple basque trimmed with applications of cut out golden brown velvet over rose color. The bolero is of the same sort of velvet, the open pattern showing to advantage over the rose lining. The sleeves are of gray silk and are trimmed with gold buttons and a frill of gray silk. The epaulets are of velvet. The jabot trimming of the front is of rose silk and the collar also.
